BLET and SMART-TD, four other Rail Unions to bargain together

Top leaders of the Transportation Division of the International Association of Sheet Metal, Air, Rail and Transportation Workers (SMART-TD) and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Trainmen (BLET) announced on December 17 that their organizations will be participating with four other rail unions in coordinated bargaining in the upcoming round of national negotiations.

On December 8, 2014, BLET General Chairmen and SMART-TD General Chairpersons each served bargaining notices on their respective railroads, including identical notices related to health and welfare and related benefits.

"Today we build on the success of joint bargaining during the past two national rounds," said BLET National President Dennis R. Pierce.

"Now more than ever before it is imperative that the unions representing railroad operating crafts sit side-by-side at the national table, and I am pleased that we have been able to accomplish that."

"This is a landmark occasion for BLET members and SMART-TD members alike," said SMART-TD President John Previsich. "Today's announcement builds on several years of cooperation between our organizations on a variety of common issues, and is the logical next step for our great unions. Working together will allow rail labor to make the strongest possible effort to obtain for our members the wages and working conditions that they deserve."

Also participating in the coordinated bargaining effort are the American Train Dispatchers Association (ATDA), the Brotherhood of Railroad Signalmen (BRS), the International Brotherhood of Boilermakers, Iron Ship Builders, Blacksmiths, Forgers, and Helpers (IBB), and the National Conference of Firemen and Oilers/SEIU (NCFO).

Jointly, the participating unions represent more than 85,000 railroad workers covered by the various organizations' national agreements, and comprise over 58% of the workforce who will be impacted by the negotiations.

Announcement of verified results of BLET National Division Officers election

As prescribed by the Rules for the 2014 BLET National Division Officers Election, on December 1 National Secretary-Treasurer William C. Walpert yesterday released the verified results of the 2014 BLET National Division Officers election. A total of 26 National Division Officers and Alternates were chosen in the election and all were elected by acclamation. Four-year terms of office will begin on January 1, 2015.

Delegates at the BLET's Third National Convention, which concluded on October 2, 2014, nominated just one candidate for each National Division office. While the convention was in session, the delegates at the convention elected the officers for the 2014-2018 term.

2014 STATE OF THE UNION

Looking back at 2014, I am proud of our accomplishments as a Brotherhood and guardedly optimistic about what lies ahead for New Year. While we continued to face significant challenges in 2014, our union remains strong and our course is steady.

Much of the year 2014 was dedicated to planning and conducting our Third National Convention. We published our Convention Call in the February/March 2014 issue of this Locomotive Engineers & Trainmen News, but planning of the event actually began nearly two years prior to that announcement.

Our Third National Convention marked the 64th time in our 151-year history that the Brotherhood gathered together for a national or international convention. I share this fact so all members can be aware of the proud tradition that was continued by all in attendance at this year’s National Convention. This year’s delegation was asked to consider many resolutions, all crafted to make our union stronger and more stable, and our Bylaws more understandable. Work on Bylaws resolutions is not always exciting, but it is work that must be done for the betterment of the Brotherhood. This year’s delegates should be proud of the determination and work ethic that they showed, and they have my personal thanks for ensuring that the work of the Brotherhood was completed in a timely fashion.

I am also proud of our new Education and Training Center, which opened at our National Headquarters in Cleveland in 2014. Our first class was held on July 21, 2014 — a workshop for Local Chairmen. It is so much more than a training facility. We have established perhaps the most modern classroom environment in all of organized labor, affording our membership access to the best classroom technology that exists today. We concluded this year’s final workshop during the weekend of December 15, and will host a full slate of workshops through out the coming year.

Looking ahead, we plan to expand the availability of the Education and Training Department in the not too distant future. I have challenged our staff to extend the reach of our Education and Training Department to as many members as possible. The realities of in-person training imposes a limit on the number of officers and members we can reach through our traditional training methods. My goal is to implement a curriculum of online and electronic training that will be available 24 hours a day, seven days a week. I would also like to expand training to more than just our elected officers. My ultimate goal is to establish a training module for rank and file members to help us have the best-educated membership in the House of Labor.

While on the subject of Education and Training, I would be remiss if I did not mention the retirement of National Secretary-Treasurer Bill Walpert. Brother Bill served as Director of our Education and Training Department since its founding. His visionary leadership helped mold the Department from its infancy to the high-tech training we offer today. I would personally like to thank Brother Walpert for all his efforts during his long and illustrious career and wish him nothing but the best during his well-deserved retirement.

Another milestone in 2014 occurred on June 30, when we announced the sale of our historic Standard Building in downtown Cleveland. The Standard Building was built by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers in 1924 and is a significant part of our heritage. However, the building had reached a point where considerable assets would have been necessary to repurpose the building. These are union resources that your Advisory Board determined would have been better spent performing the true function of a labor union, which is representation of the membership. A search has begun to find a new headquarters for our hard-working National Division officers and staff in the Cleveland area. The new building will also be the home of our Education and Training Center.

Our union continued to grow during 2014 thanks in large part to increased rail traffic and the growing need for railroads to employ professional, certified locomotive engineers and trainmen. But we also received a boost from our Organizing Department. On August 7, the BLET scored an organizing victory at Illinois Railway near Chicago.

We are proud to welcome nearly two-dozen national and local leaders who will become a part of the BLET’s Indiana Harbor Belt General Committee of Adjustment. Additionally, in terms of Brotherhood business, our members ratified a new collective bargaining agreement with Metra on May 19, with over 96 percent of eligible members voting in the process.

As the year closes, a ratification of the largest in the current round of national handling, representing approximately 58 percent of all active railroad workers in the United States. There is strength in numbers, and the strength and size of our group gives me optimism as we begin negotiating on your next contract.

As you read on Page 1 of this issue, the Brotherhood is working in concert with five other rail unions, including the Transportation Division of the International Association of Sheet Metal, Air, Rail, and Transportation Workers, to achieve our goals at the bargaining table. Our group is the largest in the current round of national handling, representing approximately 58 percent of all active railroad workers in the United States. There is strength in numbers, and the strength and size of our group gives me optimism as we begin negotiating on your next contract.

These are some of the many issues that will be on our plate as we approach our proud organization’s 152nd birthday on May 8, 2015. I wish to thank all officers, members and staff of our great Brotherhood for a job well done in 2014. We will not rest until we secure a better tomorrow for our members.

BLET National Division Electronic Communications Policy

Official communications between BLET members and the National Division require a hard copy of the correspondence, bearing a signature, being received by the National President to be considered an “official communication.” This is to provide that the actual question(s) are addressed, and ensures that when official interpretations are made they have reference to a specific request and can be used in future correspondence.

The volume of e-mails received makes it impossible for the National President to answer all unofficial communications. Therefore, it is the policy of the BLET that e-mails addressed to the National President will be reviewed and forwarded to the appropriate officer or staff for a time-ly response; however, an e-mail message is not considered an official communication. Moreover, anonymous e-mails and e-mails that do not provide sufficient in-formation concerning the sender to enable National Division staff to confirm the sender’s membership status will not receive any reply or acknowledgement. This policy is intended to allow the National President to address the recipients of suggestions and suggestions of the membership, while at the same time providing a timely response to the sender’s communication if a response is necessary, without need-lessly expending limited BLET resources.

With elected officials increasingly choosing not to be the answer for American workers, the people need to find their own solutions. And that’s where the Teamsters and other unions can play a role in lifting up regular workers.

BLET says FRA should reject SEPTA’s request for safety waiver

Sleep deprivation is becoming an issue for locomotive engineers at SEPTA as the railroad seeks to renew a safety waiver that would limit rest time for operating crews.

Some terrible accidents due to sleep deprivation on other railroads. We don’t need that to happen here.

Since originally receiving a waiver in October of 2012, wrote BLET National President Dennis R. Pierce in a letter to the FRA, SEPTA has systematically reduced “the number of locomotive engineer assignments while simultaneously increasing the number of trains and route miles in the public schedule.”

Without enough hands on deck, says Pierce, SEPTA has resorted to overworking its locomotive engineers, who are the most critical safety employees on every SEPTA train in operation.

Six-day workweeks are routine at SEPTA, Pierce reports, and engineers are frequently called into work in a way that interrupts their sleep patterns. Forcing engineers to operate trains with insufficient rest creates a known — and preventable — risk to passengers and crew members.

In his letter to FRA, Pierce documented that SEPTA’s recent performance does not justify granting the agency an extension and expanded waiver from compliance with federal regulations on operator safety and fatigue:

“SEPTA has increased its daily revenue miles, increased the occasions of interrupted sleep for its extra board engineers, decreased its manpower, decreased the number of five day assignments, eliminated the number of extra board employees with two consecutive days off, and had an ‘alarming’ series of decertification events recently,” President Pierce wrote.

BLET is calling on FRA to deny the agency’s request for a new waiver, which would allow the agency to bypass existing safety regulations by reducing rest times for locomotive engineers. Instead, the union asked the agency to conduct a full public hearing, to ensure that SEPTA is operating in a manner that is as safe as possible for the public and for the agency’s employees, and the hearing has been scheduled for February 10, 2015.

“Let’s examine all the facts and evidence,” BLET Vice President Bruno said. “We believe that when the FRA examines the record, they’ll agree with us that SEPTA needs more compliance — not less — with federal safety rules.”
Railroad Retirement and Unemployment Insurance taxes in 2015

T he amounts of compensation subject to railroad retirement Tier I and payroll taxes will increase in 2015, with the Tier I tax rates remaining the same while Tier II tax rates will increase for both railroad employers and employees. Also, railroad unemployment insurance contribution rates paid by employers will include a surcharge of 1.5 percent in 2015.

TIER I AND MEDICARE TAX: The railroad retirement Tier I payroll tax rates applied to employees for the year 2015 remains at 7.65 percent. The railroad retirement Tier I tax rate is the same as the social security tax, and for withholding and reporting purposes is divided into 6.20 percent for retirement and 1.45 percent for Medicare hospital insurance. The maximum amount of an employee’s earnings subject to the 6.20 percent rate increases from $117,000 to $118,500 in 2015, but there is no maximum on earnings subject to the 1.45 percent Medicare rate. An additional Medicare payroll tax of 0.9 percent applies to an individual’s income exceeding $200,000 or $250,000 for a married couple filing a joint tax return. While employers will begin withholding the additional Medicare tax as soon as an individual’s wages exceed the $200,000 threshold, the final amount owed or refunded will be calculated as part of the individual’s Federal income tax return.

TIER II TAX: The railroad retirement Tier II tax rate on employees will be 4.1 percent in 2015, and the employers’ rate will be 13.1 percent. The rates in 2014 for employees and employers were 4.1 percent and 12.7 percent, respectively. The maximum amount of employee’s earnings subject to railroad retirement Tier II taxes will increase from $87,000 to $88,200 in 2015. Since 2004, Tier II tax rates are based on an average account benefits ratio reflecting railroad retirement fund levels. Depending on this ratio, the Tier II tax rate for employees can be between 0 percent and 4.9 percent, while the Tier II rate for employers can range between 8.2 percent and 22.1 percent.

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE CONTRIBUTIONS: Employers, but not employees, pay railroad unemployment insurance contributions, which are experience-rated by employer. The Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act also provides for a surcharge in the event of railroad Unemployment Insurance Account balance falls below an indexed threshold amount. The accrual balance of the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Account was $140.8 million on June 30, 2014. Since the balance is less than the indexed threshold of $141.2 million, a 1.5 percent surcharge will be added to the basic contribution rates for 2015, but will not increase the maximum 12 percent rate. There was no surcharge in 2014 or 2013, although a surcharge of 1.5 percent was applied in 2012.

As a result, the unemployment insurance contribution rates (including the 1.5 percent surcharge) on railroad employers in 2015 will range from the minimum rate of 2.15 percent to the maximum of 12 percent on monthly compensation up to $1,440, an increase from $1,440 in 2014. In 2015, the minimum rate of 2.15 percent will apply to 77 percent of covered employers, with 8 percent paying the maximum rate of 12 percent. During the year, new employers will pay an unemployment insurance contribution rate of 4.09 percent, which represents the average rate paid by all employers in the period 2011-2013.

BLET MEMBERS RATIFY CONTRACT WITH CSXT

B y a vote of better than 2-to-1, members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Trainmen have ratified a new collective bargaining agreement with CSX Transportation, Inc. (CSX). Ballots were counted on December 15, 2014, and the agreement includes general wage increases, health and welfare benefits for CSX locomotive engineers and local work rules for more than 4,800 locomotive engineers. Health and welfare benefits for CSX locomotive engineers will be bargained nationally starting early in 2015.

BLET members ratify Letter of Agreement with BNSF

B y a 93 percent majority, BLET members have ratified a Letter of Agreement with the Burlington Northern and Santa Fe Railways that provides for a 3 percent General Wage Increase (GWI) effective January 1, 2015. The Letter of Agreement provides for an approximate 2.15 percent to the maximum of 12 percent on monthly compensation up to $1,440, an increase from $1,440 in 2014. In 2015, the minimum rate of 2.15 percent will apply to 77 percent of covered employers, with 8 percent paying the maximum rate of 12 percent. During the year, new employers will pay an unemployment insurance contribution rate of 4.09 percent, which represents the average rate paid by all employers in the period 2011-2013.

BLET National President Dennis R. Pierce thanked the four BNSF General Chairmen for their work on the Letter of Agreement, including B.J. Brown, BNSF-C&S GCA; J.A. Holdcraft, BNSF-ATSF GCA; J.L. Thurman, BNSF-LS&SF GCA; and M.O. Wilson, BNSF/MRL GCA. “I also want to thank all members who took the time to participate and vote in this process,” President Pierce said. “The strength of our Brotherhood comes from the collective strength of our membership and participating in our democratic processes only serves to make us stronger.”

Alan Holdcraft reelected BNSF (former ATSF) General Chairman

B rother J. Alan Holdcraft was reelected to his second term as General Chairman of the Burlington Northern Santa Fe (former ATSF) General Committee of Adjustment at the GCA’s triennial meeting at Bally’s in Las Vegas, which concluded on October 24.

OSHA levies $279,000 in fines against BNSF for FRSA violations

Throughout September and October, the Department of Labor's Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) issued four separate fines totaling $279,000 against the BNSF Railway for violations of the Federal Railroad Safety Act (FRSA).

On September 2, the railroad was fined $12,000 for disciplining a conductor at its Murray Yard complex near Kansas City, Mo. OSHA determined that the railroad disciplined the conductor in retaliation for taking leave in line with a doctor's treatment plan. The employee was ill and notified a supervisor that he was seeing a doctor the afternoon of Nov. 18, 2013. Following his doctor's appointment, the conductor immediately notified a supervisor that the doctor had ordered him to stay out of work for the remainder of the day. The company then accused the employee of violating its attendance policy and subsequently disciplined the employee.

On October 1, BNSF was fined $30,000 for retaliating against a worker in Mandan, N.D. The former employee submitted a whistleblower complaint to OSHA alleging violations of the anti-retaliation provisions of the FRSA. As a result, OSHA investigated and determined the work-related injury reporting and subsequent treatment plan were contributing factors in terminating the employee, a direct violation of the FRSA. OSHA ordered BNSF to reinstate the worker at the same or an equivalent job while restoring seniority and benefits.

On October 15, BNSF was ordered to pay $225,000 for wrongfully terminating an apprentice electrician who reported an injury to his left shoulder. OSHA determined that the railroad terminated the employee following an injury that required the employee to be transported to an emergency room and medically restricted from returning to work. The company’s investigation into the injury, reported on Aug. 27, 2013, concluded that the employee had been dishonest on his employment record about former, minor workplace injuries unrelated to the left shoulder. These conclusions led the company to terminate the employee following an injury that required the employee to be transported to an emergency room and medically restricted from returning to work.

On October 28, BNSF was fined $12,000 for disciplining a conductor in Ottumwa, Iowa. OSHA determined that the railroad disciplined the conductor in retaliation for taking leave in line with a treatment plan ordered by a doctor. The employee was ill and saw a doctor on Dec. 16, 2013. Following the appointment, the conductor immediately notified a supervisor that the doctor had ordered him to stay out of work for the remainder of the day. The employee was subsequently disciplined for violating the company’s attendance policy.

BLET helps Santa Train spread good cheer

The 72nd annual CSX Santa Train ran safely and on-time again this year, thanks in large part to the locomotive engineers and trainmen of BLET Division 781 in Erwin, Tenn. Every November, Santa Claus trades his sleigh and reindeer for a CSX train ride through Appalachia. On November 22, 2014, Santa and his elves distributed an estimated 15 tons of donated gifts to children of all ages at the 14 stops along the 110-mile route through eastern Kentucky, western Virginia and northeast Tennessee.

The annual event, which first ran in 1943, is sponsored by CSX Transportation, Food City Grocers, Dignity U Wear and the Chamber of Commerce of Kingsport, Tenn.

In addition to Santa, this year’s special guest was Grammy Award-winning country singer Amy Grant. The members of BLET Division 781 normally run CSX freight trains along the route from Shelby, Ky., to Kingsport, Tenn. It is difficult terrain and the BLET members are intimately familiar with the route’s many challenging hills and curves. They are uniquely qualified to operate trains along the territory and are extremely proud of their contributions to the Santa Train heritage.

Typically, the senior member of the Division will bid on the Santa Train job. This year, the honor went to Brother Robert A. “Bobby” Davis, a 33-year member of the BLET who will mark his 41st year of railroading in March of 2015. Brother Davis hired out on the former Clinchfield Railroad in 1974 and earned promotion to locomotive engineer in 1980. He joined BLET Division 781 in Erwin effective April 1, 1981. He stayed with the railroad through various mergers and acquisitions over the years, which included the Seaboard, L&N, Family Lines, Chessie System, and eventually CSX. Brother Davis ran the Santa Train once before in the late 1990s, and elected to bid on the job again this year. With retirement on the horizon, he said this is could be the last year he would have a chance to work inside the cab of the Santa Train.

It was a family affair for Brother Davis this year. He said that Cindy Sandborn, CSX’s Vice President and Chief Transportation Officer, allowed members of the operating crew to invite two family members on board for the 2014 Santa Train experience. So Brother Davis brought along his wife, Teressa, and son Brent, 31.

While he worked in the cab, Brother Davis’s family were able to ride in a special car with Santa Claus and Amy Grant, spending time with both and helping to pass out gifts with each celebrity.

“They had an extraordinary time,” Brother Davis said. “I want to thank Cindy Sandborn for allowing them on board. They had a good time from start to finish.”

Brother Davis said the 14 stops along the 110-mile route were better organized than the last time he ran the Santa Train. He took heart in knowing his fellow BLET Brothers and Sisters would be along the route to help with crowd control.

In addition to providing a pool of locomotive engineers to operate the Santa Train, the members of BLET Division 781 also coordinate safety teams at each of the 14 stops along the route. According to Division 781’s David Fitzgerald, these safety teams keep crowds away from the tracks as the Santa Train prepares to stop.

“The ground crew did an excellent job of keeping people away from the tracks,” Brother Davis said. “They did a great job and it was very well organized from start to finish.”

In addition to Amy Grant, past Santa Train celebrity artists include Alison Krauss, the Judds, Travis Tritt, Patty Loveless and others. Also, several governors, U.S. senators and representatives, and other local, state and federal officials have ridden the train.

Your Peace of Mind Policy

Transportation workers protecting each other since 1910.
The last few months of 2014, following our 2nd Quadrennial Convention, were a busy time for our newly elected national officers as we acclimate ourselves to the duties of our new positions. The enthusiasm exuded by this highly motivated and optimistic group of dynamic women, particularly those who comprise our Executive Council, has inspired a slogan for the takeoff of our new administration: “On the verge of a surge!” Merriam Webster Dictionary defines the word surge as “to move very quickly and suddenly in a particular direction,” or “to suddenly increase to an unusually high level.” With the goal of attracting new members and increasing the size and scope of our organization as we go about the business of supporting and educating BLET families and promoting issues that affect the safety and welfare of railroaders, we feel that we are truly “on the verge of a surge!”

In the last few months of 2014, our membership level rose almost 10 percent, which is very encouraging. We also have a number of new local auxiliaries in the making in various areas around the country. Many of these are coming about as the result of contacts that were made by our Past National President Anita Caruso and me during the last administration, and some have emerged just since the National Convention was held. Our new National 1st Vice President and Outreach Coordinator Susie Burrola is busy following up with these contacts and she and I plan to do some traveling together in the months ahead to get these new auxiliaries organized. Susie is very passionate about her new position and anxious to share information about the Auxiliary with everyone she meets.

I invite all of you who are reading this now to please join us on this upward surge by becoming a member yourself and then inviting the spouses in your area to step up and join us as well! If you are not a BLET spouse, you have the option to join as an associate member. Please visit our newly redesigned website at www.bletauxiliary.net to find out more about the Auxiliary and to download a membership application. On the site, you will also find information about our newly revised eligibility requirements for our Scholarship Program and our Care and Assistance Program, as well as up-to-date news from our National 2nd Vice President/National Legislative Representative Kathleen Bisbikis about legislative issues that affect railroad families. Kathleen is doing an excellent job of keeping us all informed, not only about legislative matters, but also about any changes to our health and welfare, and Railroad Retirement benefits.

From all of our Auxiliary National Officers to all of you… we wish you all the best in the coming year and look forward to reconnecting with those of you we already know and getting to know those of you we have not yet met! Happy New Year!!
REVISED EARNINGS LIMITS TO RISE IN 2015

Railroad retirement annuities subject to earnings restrictions can earn more in 2015 without having their benefits reduced as a result of increased earnings limits indexed to national wage increases.

Like social security benefits, some railroad retirement benefit payments are subject to deductions if an annuitant’s earnings exceed certain exempt amounts. These earnings restrictions apply to those who have not attainted full social security retirement age. For employees and spouse annuitants, full retirement age ranges from age 65 for those born before 1938 to age 67 for those born in 1962 or later. For those under full retirement age through December 2015, the exempt earnings amount rises to $15,720 from $15,480 in 2014. For beneficiaries obtaining full retirement age in 2015, the exempt earnings amount, for the months before the month full retirement age is attained, rises to $41,880 in 2015 from $41,400 in 2014. For those under full retirement age through December 2015, the earnings deduction is $1 for every $2 over those exempt earnings amounts. For those attaining full retirement age in 2015, the deduction is $1 for every $2 over the exempt earnings amount. In the months before the month full retirement age is attained, when applicable, their earnings are assessed when determining full retirement age.

This earnings restriction does not change from year to year and does not allow for an exempt amount. A spouse benefit is subject to reduction only for the spouse’s earnings, but also for the earnings of the employee, regardless of whether the earnings are from self-employment. All earnings of a railroad employer or railroad union retirement trust are counted, regardless of the employer or railroad union.

Before December 2013, earnings in excess of the exempt amount were deducted when determining full retirement age. Those who work on January 1, 2015 or later will be exempted from the earnings test.

In December 2014, the BLET BYLaws were amended to simplify the process of determining whether earnings are subject to deduction.

When applicable, these earnings restrictions can earn more in 2015 without having their benefits reduced as a result of increased earnings limits indexed to national wage increases.

Like social security benefits, some railroad retirement benefit payments are subject to deductions if an annuitant’s earnings exceed certain exempt amounts. These earnings restrictions apply to those who have not attainted full social security retirement age. For employees and spouse annuitants, full retirement age ranges from age 65 for those born before 1938 to age 67 for those born in 1962 or later. For those under full retirement age through December 2015, the exempt earnings amount rises to $15,720 from $15,480 in 2014. For beneficiaries obtaining full retirement age in 2015, the exempt earnings amount, for the months before the month full retirement age is attained, rises to $41,880 in 2015 from $41,400 in 2014. For those under full retirement age through December 2015, the earnings deduction is $1 for every $2 over those exempt earnings amounts. For those attaining full retirement age in 2015, the deduction is $1 for every $2 over the exempt earnings amount. In the months before the month full retirement age is attained, when applicable, their earnings are assessed when determining full retirement age.

This earnings restriction does not change from year to year and does not allow for an exempt amount. A spouse benefit is subject to reduction only for the spouse’s earnings, but also for the earnings of the employee, regardless of whether the earnings are from self-employment. All earnings of a railroad employer or railroad union retirement trust are counted, regardless of the employer or railroad union.

Before December 2013, earnings in excess of the exempt amount were deducted when determining full retirement age. Those who work on January 1, 2015 or later will be exempted from the earnings test.
